Section 1 – Cookies and tracking technology

We use cookies to personalise content (and ads where applicable), to provide social media features, and to analyse our website traffic. We also share information about your use of our site, e.g. with our social media, advertising and analytics partners, who may combine it with other information that you've provided to them or that they've collected from your use of their services.

Section 2 – What are cookies and how long do they stay on my device?

A 'cookie' is a text file that's stored on your computer, tablet, or phone when you visit a website. Session cookies are ones that are deleted when you close down your browser whereas persistent cookies remain on your device until they are either expired or deleted. Persistent cookies enable us to remember things about when you return to our website. To find out more about cookies, visit www.allaboutcookies.org. Note that other sources of information are available.

Section 3 – How our website uses cookies

To ensure the PCC remains compliant with the United Kingdom General Data Protection Regulations, we use the ChurchDesk Cookie and Analytics Solution which is provided by Cookiebot. A list of cookies active on our website is available by navigating to the cookie banner on our website.

The PCC, with your explicit consent, will only use data collected by cookies for the purposes outlined in this policy, and in the cookie banner on our website. On occasion, we may include links to third party websites on our website. Where we provide a link, it does not mean that we endorse or approve that site's policy towards visitor privacy. You should review their privacy and cookies policies before sending them any personal data. The PCC accepts no responsibility for the policies or actions of any third parties that you navigate to from our website.

Section 4 – Your rights

You have the right to opt-out of the use of cookies on our website at any time by either declining to use cookies when prompted or by clearing the cookies data stored on your device.
